

Experience the Lalique Museum differently! Take part in a creative workshop allowing you to discover René Lalique's pieces of art in a creative way. To make the experience complete, a specific guided tour is added to the workshop. That way, the tour is centered on the workshop theme you choose. This service needs to be booked in advance.

Through the glass

After a specific guided tour, participants choose one piece of art (or more) to represent on two glass plates, which can be used afterwards as coasters. That way, participants can create a two-sided picture: on the one hand, what can directly be seen, and on the other hand, what appears when you stack up both coasters. To decorate the glass plates, participants will use special glass paint, as well as special glass pens.

Blooming jewellery

After a guided tour centred on Japonism and Art nouveau in René Lalique's work, participants will create a window-hanging piece of jewellery, specifically inspired by Japanese flora. Materials such as metal and pearls will be used, just like René Lalique did to represent the Land of the rising sun. The workshop insists on the Japanese inspiration that is to be found in René Lalique's work, especially in the jewellery, but also in the glass objects.
